

I heard about the Sinclair Broadcasting's having their stations show an anti-Kerry documentary in the time just before the election and I am horrified. This is not like a paid advertisement that is clearly a political ad, but a demonstration of how huge corporations can use their huge influence nationwide to sway the public without that being their clearly stated intent. It is a very dangerous route to follow and reminds me of the kinds of slanted news that totalitarian governments impose on their citizens. Please stop Sinclair's broadcast and make it clear that corporate domination of the airwaves will not be allowed to set the public agenda. As I understand it, the airwaves are still public, and their use - or misuse in this case - is of critical importance to keeping this a free country. Thank you for your attention to this urgent matter.

Sincerely,
Madeleine Burbank
